

Allowing cell phone use in flight is an irresponsible idea. Passengers need to pay attention to safety briefings, especially during an emergency. There is no hard evidence cell phone use does not interfere with avionics. And if everyone can use one, who says bad people won't be using them as well?